Panthers Will Play Three Conference Games This Week

Blue and White to Encounter Vermont Thursday in Home Contest

VARSITY WILL MEET ST. MICHAEL'S AWAY

Middlebury Team to Engage Norwich Here Saturday Afternoon

The Panther nine will encounter three state title contenders this week-end, meeting the University of Vermont, Thursday at Porter field, St. Michael's Friday at Winooski, and Norwich Saturday also on the local diamond.

The Blue and White team and the lakeside nine have each won one game in the state series, the Catamounts defeating Norwich 8-3, and the Panthers in turn swamping the Upstaters 13-3 in last Saturday's contest. The U. V. M. contenders will enter the game Thursday with the hope of avenging the defeat the Panthers handed them last week, and of duplicating their performance of last junior week when they nosed out the Blue and White team by a 3-1 count on Porter field.

The Catamounts have won four games thus far this season, taking Norwich 8-3, barely nosing out Williams 8-7, and annexing two victories on their ten game southern tour earlier in the season. The Panther aggregation has a better looking record on paper, if comparison is figured on a percentage basis, having won two, tied one, and lost two. The Blue and White won from Panzer and the University of Vermont, tied 5-5 with Upsala, and lost to Union and Army.

The encounter with St. Michael's Friday at Winooski should give the Blue and White some difficulty. The Purple team has turned in a fairly good record so far this season, winning two conference games from Norwich by 4-3

Junior Week Play Will Be Repeated

Second Showing of Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound" To Be Presented Tonight

"Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane, the annual junior week play, will be repeated tonight at the playhouse at 8:15 p. m. The initial performance was given last night.

The first act of the play gives a realistic treatment of a group of people on board ship who are "outward bound". The second and third acts are concerned with the mystical revelations of the outcome of the voyage for each individual.

All the scenes are laid in a modern smoking room on a steamer. The set was designed by Prof. V. Spencer Goodreds and was executed by students under the direction of Erik L. Swyler.

The cast consists of the following:

Scrubby ----------James S. Millar '35
Ann ----------Dorothy M. Jordan '36

Middlebury Gives Student Opinions In Questionnaire

DuBois and Bump Chosen as Most Representative Undergraduates

MAJORITY DECIDE IN FAVOR OF SOCIALISM

Annual Poll Indicates Hoxie And Major Outstanding College Athletes

Voting on the annual CAMPUS questionnaire at chapel Thursday, 493 students filled out ballots to offer their opinions on campus presonalities and questions of college and general interest. Full returns of the voting may be found on page three of this issue.

Charles N. Dubois '34, president of the student body, and Glenna M. Bump '34, president of Mortar Board, were respectively chosen as being the man and woman most representative of Middlebury.

In the balloting for the outstanding athletes, Elwood A. Hoxie '36 and Dorothy A. Major '34 were victorious in their respective colleges. Dubois was named the outstanding non-athlete by an overwhelming margin and Mary P. Hall '34 led the women non-athletes.

Walter E. Boehm '35 was chosen as most popular in the men's college with Dorothy Gray '35 selected as most popular of the women. Dorothy McK. Wilson '34 was declared the most attractive woman.

Prof. Reginald L. Cook again led the faculty in student eyes as being most stimulating to the intellectual growth of the college. Professor Owen, Bryant, and Rusby followed in that order.

The general election day met with decided favor and opinion on the question of adopting a system of pass fail was slightly in favor of such a plan. Compulsory chapel was clearly upheld with opinion on the matter of

Sigma Phi Epsilon Begins New House

Construction Work Started Monday on Corner Plot Adjoining Chi Psi Lodge

Work was started Monday in preparation for the construction of the new Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house. It is expected that the house will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

It is to be built on the corner lot adjacent to the Chi Psi lodge on South Main street. The new building will be a white wooden structure of colonial style, the two wings being faced with stone.

The house is being built by the Cummings construction company of Ware, Mass., which has built several of the newer buildings on the campus. The architects are Perry and Bishop of New Britain, Conn.

The project has been directed by the central office of the national fraternity which is located in Richmond, Va. and by the Middlebury Sigma Phi Epsilon alumni corporation, of which Stanley M. Sargent '26 of East Orange, N. J., is president and Milton Egan '26 of New Britain, Conn., is treasurer.

This chapter was founded in 1923 as Sigma Phi Iota, a local fraternity and received its national charter from Sigma Phi Epsilon in 1925.

JUNIOR WEEK

On with the dance! let joy be unconfined;
No sleep till morn, when Youth and Pleasure meet
To chase the glowing hours with flying feet.
—Lord Byron

At exactly 12:30 tomorrow afternoon this year's Junior Week activities and festivities will officially get under way. The class of 1935 will take its turn at sponsoring the annual spring holiday, hoping for a few smiles from the weatherman to make possible the successful completion of a carefully planned program of social and athletic features.

Coming as it does immediately before the final trying period of examinations, Junior Week offers the undergraduate body its last opportunity to play together as a whole. It is the last chance that the senior class will have to join in festivity with the three lower classes. There will be Senior Week, of course, with its Senior Ball, but Senior Week is somehow not a part of the school year; it is quite completely severed from the whole by the examinations. Its spirit is not the same as that of Junior Week; the seniors are no longer a part of the scheme of things; many of the undergraduates are already scattered about the country; the wholsesome unity that Middlebury preserves during Junior Week is lacking.

We ask that the students remember this and make the most of this prolonged week-end. Let us all make this Junior Week a happy interlude before we get down to the final drive. Of course there are term papers piled up that should have been completed gradually during the year; but they've been put off this long, so they might just as well wait until Monday. You students, laugh, sing, dance.

To the many visitors that Middlebury will play host to this week, we say welcome. You as guests of this college community will find us quite hospitable and anxious to make your visit as pleasant as possible. Welcome to Middlebury.

O Weatherman, smile!

THE JUNIOR WEEK PLAY

The first performance of "Outward Bound", this year's Junior Week Play, was successfully presented at the playhouse last night; tonight the second and last performance will be given. Those who witnessed last night's offering were treated to a splendid evening's entertainment. Professor Goodreds has done an excellent job in presenting this fine play; but we have come to expect performances of high merit from Professor Goodreds. Yet, while we can invariably depend upon him for well-directed presentations, his Junior Week play seems annually to be the black sheep of the Junior Week program. This play, which should by all rights be made a real feature of the Junior Week proper, is given dates previous to the regular Junior Week period.

We realize that it is extremely difficult to crowd a dozen different features in the short time betwen Thursday noon and Sunday evening, the period of official Junior Week; but we believe, notwithstanding, that room should be made for at least one presentation of the Junior Week play. We are extremely fortunate in having a man so capable of consistently turning out well-rounded, well-directed productions, and we should take fullest advantage of the fact by making the play a leading feature of the official Junior Week period, instead of leaving it outside. We hope that next year's Junior Week program will realize an opportunity to include the Junior Week play in the regular program.

Poking About

—by Velma S. Sutliffe

"With a philosophical flourish Cato throws himself upon his sword; I quietly take to the ship." Melville.

And I, to the stacks in the library. I enter their cool recesses, closing out the confusion of the campus, and sit on a little stool between infinite high walls, like a monk in his tight cell, or a placid hermit in some quiet grove.

Here the brain disentangles the knotted threads of classes and conversations, and in simple solitude winds itself up, and begins to spin along with unhurried ease. Time ceases to beat, and it is of little consequence if even the titles of the looming books fall into nothing. The April sunlight streams in shredded ribbons from the South, and catches among the leaves of the coleus boxed on the window sill. The stacks are like a great greenhouse, a conservatory guarding its piled volumes as if they were the tenderest of flowers, delicate blossoms of man's remembering and creating.

On either side, I can reach out at random, and a bit of the wall beside me will resolve beneath my eyes into the open history of human experience. A book is drawn from behind the book I have drawn, and through the tunnel cut I can see the hands of a girl in the next compartment reading. We are all in our little compartments, you with your gloomy Schopenhauer, and I with Lafcadio Hearn; in a moment perhaps we will both put them back again, to share the same narrow shelf, and we will both stare out, with mutual vague interest, at the Dekes pitching horseshoes in their driveway.

At this point someone walks above my head, and I look up at his shoes like bizarre fish through the frosted green ceiling. The stacks have an entrancing submarine atmosphere, murky and a little strange. If you lie flat in the aisle (which you must never do), like a scientist in his glass-bottomed boat in a grotto, and peer through the floor, heads passing below assume the appearance of sea-plants waving with the rhythmic movement of water. Perhaps I seem a distant deep-down ocean creature to the owner of the threatening feet on the level above. We are domesticated gold fish, and we swim about each of us in our separate aquarium, able to perceive dimly each other's actions, but never able to pierce through to recognition or understanding.

I have sat long enough on the little stool. I have got my bearings, and now the bookcases confine me. "Upper stack 18, west" no longer determines my whole latitude and longitude. Now is the time to leave, with regained calm. But when I lose my way again, I shall return to the stacks.

Shreds and Patches

Tomorrow, even for those of us not in the class of '35, opens junior week. Such glorious effluvia have been more than adequately described in countless CAMPUS editorial columns of the past --to exude verbosity on the subject at this time is merely to waste words. But wasting words is one of the best things we do, so may this department do its small bit by welcoming all those guests, from the age of parents to that of prom partners, who favor the campus with their presence this week.

Speaking of the prom, we are nastily reminded of a crack in the Vermont Cynic's column which appeared last spring, to the effect that weekend guests at that institution could be easily identified by the state of their vitality. Seems they claim a circle-eyed, sleepless damozel obviously just came from a Dartmouth party, while a chipper, wideawake lass is seen at once to have attended the Middlebury prom. Criticism or compliment, it's something to bear in mind.

We're all of a dither over the proposed greased pig debacle. Shades of the Roman arena, it ought to be good, if memory of past performances of this kind isn't too much of a prejudice. Detailed rules and things have been circulated with the several fraternities, and part of the chore of winning involves lugging the li'l feller up to the judges' stand. Of course, a $3.50 squealer isn't much to brag about, but think of the thrill of wiring home: "Dear Mom, Just won a greased pig!"

Orchids to the repetition of the open house dances Saturday night. In our humble, unenlightened way, we still can't see why this swell practice can't extend to more weekends during the year.

While we're delivering the posies, a nice big bunch certainly goes to the chapel leader last week—Friday morning 'twas, when the drowsy quiet of the place was electrified by that "What an afternoon, what an afternoon." Maybe that sort of thing amuses us to exaggeration, but we thought that was perfectly swell. Doubtless chapel attendance will hit a new high for a while, anyway, so it was in a good cause.

Chapel is always worth a more serious comment and the dearth of attendance Sunday, when Dr. Tweedy spoke, is a decided reflection on the intelligence of most of the student body.

A Sunday afternoon in spring, of course, is a Sunday afternoon in spring, especially in thesis time but a lot of somebodies are missing some pretty real opportunities.

The latest enigma on the men's campus seems to center around the senior who swears he hasn't taken a walk off campus—anywhere—in the past week; yet he's writhing in a comprehensive attack of poison ivy. Poisonally, we think the infectiousness of the thing is suspicious.

And while a few of us are miserably snivelling away the last of our spring colds, a medic at Johns Hopkins crashes through with the dubious comfort that people who suffer three years in a row from colds have no more trouble with them. We suppose the third time is fatal, but what a funny way to say it!

Interesting accounts in the columns of some of our contemporaries include a report of some Wesleyan men on a weekend at Vassar. When the gals couldn't cut a Saturday class, the boys decided to audit the class with them. When it turned out to be a facts-of-life lecture, the boys obligingly supplied the answers to a few questions that had the rest of the class stopped, and everybody was happy. And surprised.

We never get over the sudden shock of seeing knickers under the formal dignity of choir robes on a nice spring morning. Ski boots in winter; knickers in summer: it's one long problem.

In the line of shocks, there's nothing quite so disheartening as the parade of positively green choir robes up the aisle every Sunday. There's a sentimental touch, though, the way they remind us of our revered tuxedo.

It would seem that a certain house on the campus has at last subscribed to the "be kind to your canine friend" movement. Either that or the Alpha Sigs have decided to preserve a bit of our lost Battell forest on their own property.

The hirsute growth that has been blossoming at the KDR house has reached the first stage of maturity. Rumor hath it that it will be enshrined in memory of that vanishing American manhood.

Questions and Answers: What house on the compus is now making reality of an edifice that was once regarded as being as elusive and non-existant as the Dodo. Now you answer it.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of the CAMPUS:

During the latter years of the nineteenth century, there was evolved, largely by French painters, an important technique of painting which came to be known as impressionism. From the earliest years of Florentine painting, artists had been concerned with the problem of the representation of light. But it was not until our era that investigators possessed sufficient scientific knowledge to accurately conduct their research.

The fundamental precept of the impressionist is that light is the only reality. Objects possess color and form only as revealed through light. In any strict sense of the word, it would be unwise to call Mr. Baum a nimpressionist. But he does sometimes employ impressionistic effects. The vividness and variety of his palette recalls some of the more successful experiments of Renoir or Seurat. But his canvases possess a feeling for mass and the solidity of objects that their rarely did. He is able to utilize the excellencies of the impressionist technique without suffering from its deficiencies.

All pictures exhibited are for sale at a moderate price, special discounts being available for students.

holding Sunday chapel at eight o'clock instead of five favoring the status quo. Liberalization of the requirements for an A. B. degree and the institution of a point system for extra-curricular activities to determine membership in Blue Key were heartily approved.

President Roosevelt was considered to be the most significant figure in world politics today. A total of 179 students declared themselves to subscribe most closely to the beliefs of the socialist party with 162 republicans and 40 democrats asserting themselves. A majority of students felt that capitalism would not survive the present economic crisis and most of these felt that socialism would surplant it.

Voting on the favorite contemporary novelist brought forth over seventy-five modern writers, but Sinclair Lewis polled the largest vote. Hervey Allen gained second place with Willa Cather, strongly supported by the women, third. Cinema personalities also showed a wide divergence of opinion with over a hundred stars, from Mickey Mouse to Greta Garbo receiving votes. George Arliss and Katherine Hepburn were most popular with the student body.

Arnold LaForce Chosen President of Kappa Phi Kappa at Meeting Tuesday

Arnold R. LaForce '35 was elected president of the Middlebury chapter of Kappa Phi Kappa at a meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon.

Other officers chosen at the same time are Arnold R. Manchester '35, vice-president; George A. Elliott '36, secretary; and Chester E. Billington '35 chairman of the social committee.

Dr. Tweedy Talks At Sunday Vespers

Speaker Stresses Dangers Of Indifference of Present Age Toward Evils of Life

Dr. Henry Hallam Tweedy of the Yale divinity school was the speaker at vespers Sunday, taking as his subject the danger of indifference toward evil.

As his example, Dr. Tweedy chose the proconsul Gallio, who, although beset by the Jews with their problems, was so occupied with his own affairs that he "cared for none of these things." He stated that some of the most destructive people today are descended from Gallio. "We are living," he said, "in a world made not by scoundrels, but by a group of people hardened to injustice and misery."

The speaker selected money and moving pictures as two examples of injustice and indifference. He pointed out the widespread poverty in the country, and declared that money means service and is, therefore, one of the most sacred things in life. He showed also the demoralizing effect of moving pictures on young people. "We are breeding and growing criminals all over the country without doing anything to stop it. Yet ordinary decent men and women do not care for these things."

Dr. Tweedy went on to say that unless we have a faith which looks behind the sun and stars and which corresponds to reason, we are a lost world. He pointed out the perfect faith of Christ when He left the quiet life of a carpenter to defend the actions of His Father to mankind. "A lost soul," he said, "is one who cannot see any meaning in life, who cannot hear the voice of Christ in humanity, and who feels a sense of loneliness in the presence of the Great Unknown. We need some assurance that out of the silence there is a voice which speaks, a heart which cares, and a purpose which plans."

In conclusion, Dr. Tweedy said, "There is a hell for the good because of their indifference and because they care for none of these things. It has been said 'all's quiet on the Western front', but all is not quiet on any front, economically, politically or intellectually. Are we going to walk through life indifferent to the needs of men, or are we going to follow One who is the light of this world and who cares intensely for all of these things?"

Black Panthers Play for Delta Delta Delta Formal

Thirty couples attended the Delta Delta Delta formal held last Saturday evening at the DDD rooms. Music for dancing was provided by the Black Panthers.

Sorority guests were Muriel Conant of the Delta Delta Delta chapter of the University of Vermont; Glenna M. Bump '34, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mary Carrick '34, Pi Beta Phi; Catherine E. Petrie '34, Sigma Kappa; Margery A. Plue '34, Phi Mu; Matilda A. Romeo '34, Alpha Xi Delta; and Doris R. Selleck '34, neutral body.

President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, and Prof. and Mrs. William S. Burrage were the chaperons.

William Mosden Talks at Alchemist Club Meeting

Mr. William Mosden of the Ethyl gasoline company, gave a lecture to the members of the alchemist club and invited guests, Thursday evening, in the lecture room of the chemistry building.

Mr. Mosden spoke on fuel values and motor knocks in internal combustion engines. The talk was supplemented by motion picture slides illustrating power curves and other technicalities. After the meeting an informal discussion was held in which Mr. Mosden answered questions pertaining to the subject.

The organization plans to hold a picnic on the Friday following the completion of comprehensive examinations.

Blue Key and "M" Club Give Minstrel

Program Includes Dialogue By Blackface Comedians And Five Specialty Acts

Blue Key and the "M" club combined their efforts to stage a minstrel show Friday night at the gymnasium. The presentation was directed by Eugene G. Hoyt '34 with Walter E. Boehm '35 in charge of the musical arrangements.

The program was divided into two parts, the first of which consisted of an old fashioned minstrel performance with an interlocutor, endmen, and a vocal chorus. John F. Darrow '37 served as interlocutor with Hoyt, James S. Tyler '34, Otto W. Prochazka '35, Richard B. Sweet '35, and Loring B. Chase '37 as blackface comedians. A delegation claiming to be from Ripton acted as stooges.

The second portion of the program was made up of a number of specialty acts. A fistic encounter brought together Hoyt and Richard F. Dempewolff '36. Charles N. DuBois '34, Russell H. White '34, and Arthur H. Williams '35 presented a hill billy sketch. A four piece German band composed of Dubois, White, Albert R. Chase '36, and Carroll L. Hasseltine '37 gave a program of martial music and an exhibition of drilling.

Continuing the program, White presented a number of musical selections in the guise of an Italian trombonist. Charles H. Startup '36 gave a recitation of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" to complete the regular presentation.

Climaxing the performance, Hoyt nominated James S. Millar '35 as the people's candidate for dog-catcher. In response to his plea, Louis M. Baumgartner '34 and Sweet withdrew from the competition, securing Millar's unanimous election.

Josephine Knox Elected President of English Club

Josephine Knox '35 was chosen president of the English club at a meeting held Saturday in Old Chapel. Other officers are Frances M. Chaffee '35, vice-president and Elizabeth Trask '36, secretary-treasurer.

New members elected at that time are: Don S. Gates '36, Henry F. McLean '36, Mary G. Ballard '35, Frances E. Bouton '35, Dorothea De Chiara '35, Louise T. Feather '35, Ruth L. Harvard '35, Gertrude E. Knight '35, Patricia Littlefield '35, Marjorie McCann '35, Annette J. Chapman '36, Eleanor R Cobb '36, Isabel H. Davies '36, Alice Dewey '36, Dorothy M. Jordon '36, Roxana E. Lewis '36, Sarah J. Platt '36, Velma S. Sutliffe '36, and Elizabeth Trask '36.

The last regular meeting of the English club was held last night at the home of President and Mrs. Moody. Prof. H. Goddard Owen was the guest speaker. For his general topic he chose Bulgaria.

Professor Owen has spent some time in that country and his talk consisted mainly in relating his experiences there and his observations of their customs.

Luckies are always in All-Ways kind to your throat

so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends
that's why you'll find Luckies do not dry out

We like to tell about the finer tobaccos in Luckies—the choicest Turkish and domestic, and only the mild, clean center leaves—they taste better—then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. But we're just as proud of the way Luckies are made. They're so round and firm, so free from loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Luckies are always—in all-ways!—kind to your throat.

Track Team Will Compete Saturday

Panthers to Defend Title at Eastern Intercollegiates To Be Held at Worcester

The track team will leave Friday morning to compete in the Eastern intercollegiate meet held at Worcester, Mass., Saturday. Middlebury will be the defending champions, having won this contest last year.

The colleges entering the Worcester meet are Connecticut state, Massachusetts state, Norwich, Rhode Island state. Trinity, Tufts, Worcester tech., University of Vermont and possibly Colby.

Rhode Island will probably present the greatest threat to Blue and White hopes this year. In their only major contest so far they swamped Connecticut state to the tune of 108-27, establishing several new field records. Dreyer won the hammer throw with a toss of over 170 feet. Bourne took the discus throw heaving it 139 feet 11 inches. The winning time in the 120 yard high hurdles was 15.6 seconds by Umstead, and in the 100 yard dash Nolan broke the tape in 10 seconds flat.

According to the rules of this meet no freshmen are allowed to compete. This will eliminate several of the Panther's strong contestants, but among the veterans of the team are many of the men who helped win the championship last year. While a complete list has not yet been made of the members who will make the trip Saturday, Coach Brown has definitely decided to take the following:

Lovell, Sears, Watson, Boehm, Cady, Lombardy, Mathewson, Prochazka, Riccio, Williams, Forbush, Hoxie, Martin, and Shea.

Intramural Softball

SPE 21-BK 18

Last Wednesday Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Beta Kappa by a count of 21-18. The Sig Eps held a slight lead throughout most of the contest. Hitting was free in all parts of the game, and the fielding was bespattered with errors. Howie pitched to Clark for the winners, and Weaver and Groby formed Beta Kappa's battery. Wissler umpired the contest.

CP 17 - DKE 0

Thursday Chi Psi trounced Delta Kappa Epsilon by the overwhelming score of 17-0. Reid, Chi Psi hurler, struck out twenty-one opposing batters and allowed only one hit in the seven innings of play. Martin and Forbush composed the battery for the Dekes. Wissler officiated for the encounter.

ASP 14 - NEUTRALS 12

Because of the illegality of their first game Alpha Sigma Phi waged a return contest with the Neutrals, defeating them 14-12. Benson pitched for errors. Howie pitched to Clark for the Neutrals. Shafiroff and Evans starred for the losers. With the bases loaded in the last inning Costaldo made a spectacular catch, checking Shafiroff's potential homer and saving the evenly matched encounter for the Alpha Sigs.

KDR 6 - ASP 5

The Kappa Delta Rho team nosed out Alpha Sigma Phi 6-5, in a close contest Monday. The South Streeters enjoyed a 6-2 lead until the seventh inning when an Alpha Sig rally threatened to turn the tables. C. A. Hickox clouted out a home run for KDR in the third stanza. LaForce and Howard hurdled for the winners while Benson pitched for ASP. Wissler and Bowker officiated.

CP 28 — SPE 3

The Chi Psi soft ball team defeated the Sig Ep contenders yesterday by an overwhelming score of 28-3.

The speed ball pitching of Reid, the Chi Psi star twirler, completely baffled the Weybridge batsmen until the first of the sixth when Dorgan finally connected for a homer to deep center field to tally the first counter for the Sig Eps.

Netmen Will Meet Three Colleges Here This Week

The Middlebury netmen are to encounter Vermont, St. Lawrence, and St. Michael's on May 10, 11, and 12, respectively. These matches, as scheduled for the local courts, are a feature of the junior week program.

In the U. V. M. contest, Captain Flagg will play number one man, Laforce number two, Rudd number three, and P. Brown or Tierney number four. Brown and Flagg are choices for the number one doubles, with LaForce and Rudd the number two combination.

Against St. Lawrence and St. Michael's, all members of the six man team will play singles. In the three doubles events, Tierney will team with Flagg, LaForce with Rudd, and Brown with Holmes.

Golf Team Downs Union But Sustains Two Losses

The varsity golf team returned last Saturday from the first trip of the spring season. The Beckmen defeated Union and lost to Colgate and Hamilton.

At Schenectady on Wednesday Middlebury completely swamped their opponents by a score of 6-0.

Journeying to Colgate for the next day's encounter the Vermonters lost 5-1. However, steady rain throughout the afternoon and a tricky course which was deceiving to anyone unacquainted with it were in a large measure responsible for the result.

Friday both teams waged a strong battle and the score remained tied at the eighteenth cup. However, the playoff nineteenth hole decided the score 4-2 for Hamilton.

Riccio played most consistent and dependable golf throughout the trip and Lombardy also showed unusual promise.

Those who made the trip were coach Beck, captain Leete, Lombardy, Riccio, Olson, and manager Thomas.

Varsity Nine Overcomes Faculty Aggregation 11-6

The varsity baseball nine defeated a team representing the faculty by a score of 11-6 Friday at Porter field.

On the varsity team Stefaniak and Kingsley twirled to Labouchere. Hoehn, Zawistoski, Meacham, and Nash filled the infield positions, with Bakey, Dumas, and Phinney in the outfield. Guild and Anderson pitched for the faculty, with Ziegler on the receiving end. Wissler, shortstop, and basemen McWhirter, Womack, and Barney played on the inner turf. Perkins, Kelly, and Coach Nelson occupied the outfield positions.

In the first four innings the varsity piled up ten runs to the faculty's one. Zawistoski made a home run in the initial period. The professors' lone point in the second inning was made by Womack's homer on a mighty clout out to the west gate. In the sixth and seventh periods the faculty staged a comeback and increased their tally to six runs. The third home run of the game was made by Anderson in the last frame.

The conversion of an even number of hits by both teams into an uneven score was due to the varsity's commendable infield performance. Zawistoski and Hoehn executed two double plays in the fourth and fifth periods, greatly limiting the pedagogues' chances to score. In his four innings on the mound Stefaniak struck out five opponents and walked two.

Blue and White Trackmen Lose To Williams 72-63 in Home Meet

The Williams track team avenged its defeat of last year at the hands of the Middlebury Panther and downed the Blue and White by a 72-63 score on Saturday. This was the first defeat the Panther has suffered in either dual meets or championship competition since the season of 1932.

A decided weakness in the field and weight events was far too great a handicap for the Blue and White to overcome in spite of their superiority in the running competition and performances that set two new college records and equalled another. The first new mark to be made was in the 220 yard low hurdles when Mathewson clicked over the barriers in the time of 24.7 seconds to beat his former record of 25 seconds. In the broad jump Cady hurtled to a distance of 22 feet, 3 3-4 inches to better the old mark by one inch, while Hoxie equalled the 100 yard dash mark by negotiating the distance in 9.9 seconds.

In the field events Williams made a clean sweep of the shot put, took first and second in the discus but was beaten in the hammer throw when Watson of Middlebury turned in a heave of 123 feet, 2 inches. The high jump found Ellis of Williams taking an easy first place with a jump of 5 feet, 11 inches with Shea of Middlebury and Anderson of Williams tying for second. In the broad jump Cady's record leap easily won for him with Flint of the Purple taking second and Williams of Middlebury third.

In the track events Williams again broke into an early lead when Parkhurst and Winkhaus took first and second respectively in the high hurdles in the time of 16.2 seconds. Martin of Middlebury was third. Mathewson's record performance in the low barrier event showed him an easy winner with Winkhaus just nosing out Martin for the second place. In the 100 yard finals, Hoxie of Middlebury came out fast to maintain a lead of about one yard to the tape and then proceeded to take the 220 yard finals with Foster of Middlebury a close second.

In the 440 yard dash Boehm of Middlebury was beaten by Howard of Williams when he failed to close a gap of about three yards between himself and the winner in the dash for the tape. Kaufmann of the Purple was third.

The mile run found MacFadyen of Middlebury taking the lead after the first lap, with his teammate Seymour moving into second on the last lap and the two holding these positions to beat out MacVeigh of Williams easily in the time of 4 minutes, 40.2 seconds. The two mile run found Sears of Middlebury opposing his cross-country rival Gregory of Williams. Sears set an early pace but the lead alternated until the mile mark when Gregory moved into the lead with Sears second and Brooker of Middlebury third. With but half a mile to go, however, Sears developed a stitch in his side and Gregory sprinted to an easy victory with the Blue and White taking the other two places.

The 880 yard run again found MacFadyen of Middlebury moving into an early lead with Forbush of Middlebury and Wood of Williams fighting it out for the second place. Coming down the far stretch on the last lap, however, Forbush matched stride for stride with his Purple opponent and succeeded in outdistancing him and in nosing out MacFadyen by inches at the tape.

Wth only two more events to be contested, the pole vault and the javelin throw, the point score of the two teams showed Williams to be leading by only one point. In the former event, however, Holmes of Williams rose to a height of 11 feet, 6 inches to beat out Hoffman of Middlebury and Flint of the Purple who tied for second with vaults falling three inches short of the winning height. In the final event Bauer of the Purple heaved the javelin 174 feet, 2 1-2 inches to beat out Captain Lovell of the Blue and White by ten inches and to bring the final count up to Williams 72, Middlebury 63.

The summaries:

Plans for an encounter with Clark university have tenatively been made but in case they are not sucessful another engagement will be secured for Thursday afternoon.

Holy Cross and B. U. both promise to present very strong teams but the favorable showing made by the Blue and White on its first trip indicates that competition will be very keen.

PANTHER NINE WILL MEET STATE RIVALS

and 6-0 counts, and also defeating the supposedly strong St. Lawrence nine by a 6-2 tally. By virtue of their two wins over the cadets, the St. Michael's team is leading in the state title race. However at this stage in the series these two victories for the Purple do not indicate a valid estimate of the final outcome, since Middlebury has not yet met either the Cadets or the Purple contenders. Considering the status of the two teams, it seems quite probable that the Blue and White should take the Purple outfit into camp Friday, duplicating their performance of last season when they nosed out the St. Michael's nine 6-4 in a close contest.

Meeting the Norwich Cadets Saturday in the feature contest of the week, the Panther sluggers should provide the home coming alumni with plenty of thrills. The soldiers seem to have the weakest team in the league this season, having lost two games to St. Michael's, 4-3, and 6-0, and also bowing to the Catamount nine by a 8-3 count.

Delta Upsilon and Alpha Sigma Phi Winners in Intramural Tennis Matches

Delta Upsilon defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Phi overcame Beta Kappa to advance to the semi-final round of the intramural tennis tournament.

In the DU-SPE matches R. Cushing, S. Ward, and Robinson defeated an SPE delegation of Rosbrook, J. Elliot and Norton.

Alpha Sigma Phi was represented by Benson, Wendler, and W. Ward who prevailed over Root, Weatherhead, and Groby of Beta Kappa, respectively.

The Neutrals and Chi Psi placed no entries, advancing Kappa Delto Rho and Delta Kappa Epsilon to the second bracket by default.

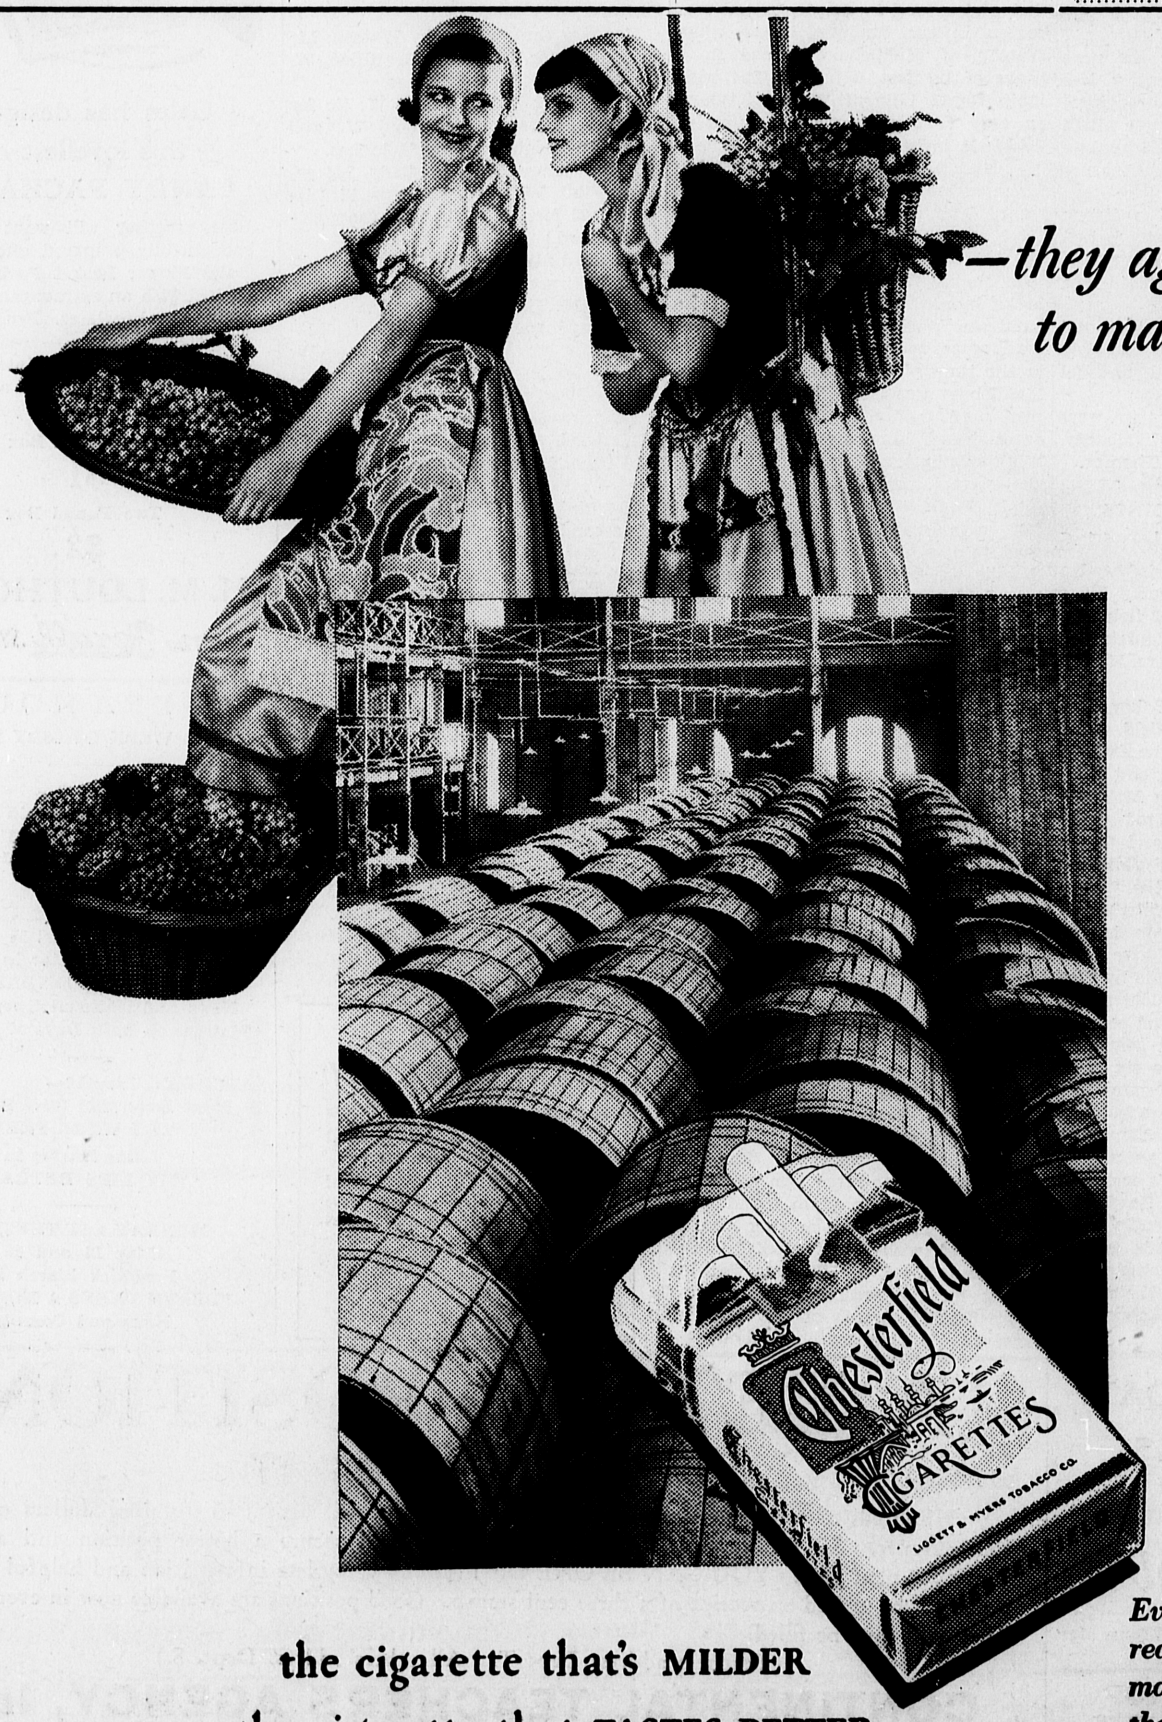
Up Stairs It Pays to Climb



—they age good grapes to make rare wines

—and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
